TEXT:

BELLEVUE, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 8, 1999--

Alliance With Online Corporate Promotional Products Company
Enhances E-Procurement and Branding Solutions for ImageX.com's Corporate Customers

ImageX.com, Inc. (Nasdaq:IMGX), a leading net market maker for print in a $292 billion dollar industry, today announced a strategic alliance with eCompanyStore.com to provide online logo merchandise for its corporate customers.

This new alliance expands the branding and e-procurement services offered through ImageX.com's Online Printing Center.

eCompanyStore.com, the leading provider of logo merchandise for mid-to large-size businesses, develops custom web sites that allow its customers to offer corporate identity merchandise via the Internet to employees. This alliance now enables ImageX.com's corporate customers to procure logo merchandise, such as logo apparel, merchandise and uniforms, in the same, streamlined fashion as their printed business materials via customized web sites provided through the Online Printing Center.

"We have an aggressive e-procurement strategy and are committed to providing full services to our corporate customers," said Rich Begert, president and CEO of ImageX.com. "With this alliance, eCompanyStore.com's customers gain access to ImageX.com's e-procurement technology and high quality services. Similarly, we are now able to offer our corporate customers branding and promotional products that are a natural extension of the branded marketing communications services offered through ImageX.com's Online Printing Center."

ImageX.com's proprietary e-procurement technology enables organizations to modify, proof, order and manage printed business materials on customized web sites directly over the Internet. The Online Printing Center is specifically designed for medium- and large-sized corporations with complex procurement needs.

"We see our new relationship with ImageX.com as a win-win arrangement for both companies," said Walt Geer, president and CEO of eCompanyStore.com. "ImageX.com's state-of-the-art e-procurement solution is very similar to the streamlined Internet-based solution offered by eCompanyStore.com. Both solutions are designed to increase effectiveness and lower costs of corporate branding and printing programs while reducing the inefficiencies associated with traditional methods. Our customers can now easily access the streamlined technologies offered by both companies for their entire corporate identity programs."

TEXT:

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 17, 1999--

Key Player Invents an Exchange Model Using Technology that Fosters Evolution Toward More Efficient, Profitable Commercial Relationships

Corporategear .com announced today that it has patented its business model, making it the first company to have an end-to-end e-commerce solution that is revolutionizing the promotional products industry.

This electronic marketplace brings the $14 billion promotional products industry into the 21st century. Corporategear .com provides a digital exchange that links buyers and sellers, allowing them to trade at the click of a mouse.

" Corporategear .com brings a great American industry into the exciting world of e-commerce," said David Verchere, Chief Executive Officer, Corporategear .com. "We will change the way the promotional products industry makes money for the better."

Corporategear .com establishes a single point of contact by integrating the entire trading process including content, community, and commerce. It allows for the traditional method of industry distribution while providing a centralized, real-time exchange that benefits all parties. Ultimately, Corporategear .com is providing a seamless digital solution to the challenges of competing in the "new" economy.

This patented process allows vendors to manage their own product data and order flow through an integrated back end solution. Value added resellers can search and order from millions of products available. By standardizing that language and method of trade Corporategear .com provides a secure, accurate and efficient method to buy and sell promotional products.

About Corporategear .com

Corporategear .com has developed the branded, standard method of purchase for the promotional products industry. This first-to-market digital solution applies the advantages of e-commerce via an exchange for its varied members that include resellers and customers as well as vendor, media and business service partners. David Verchere is the Chief Executive Officer and Prasun Lala is the Director of Development. Corporategear .com is based in New York City. Their web site is located at http://www.corporategear .com.
